

Look at this picture of the children in school. Pick two children.
Can you imagine what they might be saying to each other?
In pairs, practise and record their conversation in English, or in the target language.