

Can you match the faces with the right words in English?

Do you know any of these words in the language you're learning? If you do, write them next to the English word.

enthusiastic

nervous

worried

content

jealous

angry

surprised

calm

sad

impatient

Do you remember how we decided that this story is really about feeling different and celebrating this?

What other ways of being different are there? Can you think of any?

Do you think it's important to be positive and celebrate differences between us all? If yes, why do you think this?

