Where did it all go wrong?

I've just come back from a holiday that cost me a lot of money. I went to Spain and had booked a supposedly furburstuous hotel there. It's the first time I've had to deal with lotticks and izzids on holiday!

The holiday advert promised a furburstuous hotel, free use of the hotel's gabonmang and lovely beaches. But the hotel room was infested with lotticks and izzids, and the gabonmang was completely flooded, with a broken net and no balls or raquets we could use. Next year I'm going to stay at home instead...
